TRISudbury Equality & Diversity Policy

Reviewed March 2021

Date for Review: March 2023

TRISudbury is committed to the principle of equality of opportunity and aims to ensure that all present and potential members, coaches, competitors, officials, volunteers and spectators are treated fairly and are able to fulfil their potential within the sport.

Our Equality and Diversity Policy is built upon British Triathlon's values:

- We are people centred;
- We are ambitious;
- We are inclusive and;
- We do what is right.

TRISudbury want to promote a sport which is free from discrimination, harassment and prejudice and is truly representative of all sections of society.

TRISudbury is also committed to eliminating all forms of discrimination, whether or not covered by current law, of our present and potential participants, members, coaches, competitors, officials, volunteers and spectators.

The Equality Act 2010 is the main, overarching anti-discrimination law which TRISudbury is required to follow and abide by to help ensure that equality of opportunity is promoted across all groups and that diversity is at the heart of all that we do.

Equality and Diversity is defined as;

- Equality: treating everyone with fairness and respect and recognising and responding to the needs of individuals. Taking positive actions to address existing disadvantages and barriers affecting how people engage with and participate in triathlon.
- Diversity: acknowledging and celebrating the differences between groups of people and between individuals.

The following characteristics are protected characteristics and it is against the law to discriminate against anyone because these:

- age
- gender reassignment
- being married or in a civil partnership
- being pregnant or on maternity leave
- disability
- race including colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin
- religion or belief (including no religion)
- sex
- sexual orientation

You are protected from discrimination:

- at work
- in education
- as a consumer
- when using public services
- when buying or renting property
- as a member or guest of a private club or association

You are legally protected from discrimination by the Equality Act 2010.

You are also protected from discrimination if:

- you are associated with someone who has a protected characteristic, for example a family member or friend
- you have complained about discrimination or supported someone else's claim

Discrimination can come in one of the following forms;

- Direct discrimination - is deliberately treating an individual less favourably than another person because of a protected characteristic.
- Indirect discrimination - putting rules or arrangements in place that apply to everyone, but that put someone with a protected characteristic at an unfair disadvantage.
- Harassment - unwanted behaviour linked to a protected characteristic that violates an individual's dignity or creating and intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that individual or creates an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment. The focus is on the perception of the complainant not the intent of the perpetrator. Employees can complain of behaviour they find offensive even if it is not directed at them.
- Victimisation - treating someone unfairly because they have complained about discrimination or harassment.
- Discrimination by association - discrimination against someone because they are associated with another person who possesses a protected characteristic.
- Discrimination by perception – discrimination against someone because of the belief that someone possesses a protected characteristic.

The policy's purpose is to:

- address and prevent any unlawful discrimination or other unfair treatment, whether intentional or unintentional, direct, or indirect, that may prevent anyone from participating fully in any aspect of triathlon;
- provide equality, fairness, and respect for all in our members, coaches, volunteers and officials;
- not unlawfully discriminate because of the Equality Act 2010 protected characteristics of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race (including colour, nationality, and ethnic or national origin), religion or belief, sex and gender identity and sexual orientation;

- ensure that no sections of the community are denied the opportunity to participate and make progress in the sport of triathlon.
